CHATEAU
KSARA

The close relationship between Comptoir Libanais and Chateau Ksara goes back a long way. Both share the same Lebanese values of heritage, tradition, family dining and generosity of spirit.

Winemaking began in Lebanon over 7,000 years ago, but it was Chateau Ksara in 1857 that put down the roots of the modern industry, when the Jesuits founded the famous winery in Lebanon's Bekaa Valley, the country's rural and agricultural heartland since Roman times.

The winery has been tightly linked to the local community. An important employer in the Bekaa Valley, Chateau Ksara provides jobs for over 300 people almost all of whom live within a five km radius.

It also leads the way in setting high standards in environmental responsibility, a policy that has a positive impact on the daily lives of those who live in the Bekaa. As such, Chateau Ksara retains a special place in the heart of the Lebanese people.

MINT TEA

In Moroccan culture, mint tea holds the same significance as Earl Grey does for the British or green tea does for the Chinese. It's enjoyed throughout the day, paired with both sweet and savory dishes; you could say that in Morocco, it's always tea time. Our signature tea is brewed with gunpowder tea leaves, fresh mint, rosewater and sugar.
